

2017 Mini University

Class Listing

We reserve the right to make corrections, additions, and deletions to all Mini U classes.

*= Limited Enrollment Class

The Arts

Rap Music on Trial

Kyle Adams, Jacobs School of Music

Contemporary Art and the IU Eskenazi Museum of Art

David Brenneman, Eskenazi Museum of Art

Kicks and Choreography: The Dancing Life of Danny Kaye

Selene Carter, Department of Theatre, Drama, & Contemporary Dance

Bach to Chopin to Jazz

Luke Gillespie, Jacobs School of Music

Comme Femme*: A 15th Century Tune Goes Viral

Wendy Gillespie (emerita), Jacobs School of Music

Superstars of Musical Theatre

Constance Glen, Jacobs School of Music

The Evolution of Piano and Vocal Styles in Jazz

Tom Hustad (emeritus), Kelley School of Business, with special guests Rachel Caswell, Jacobs School of Music; and Monika Herzig, School of Public and Environmental Affairs

Roget's Thesaurus Won't Tell You, but Believe It: Two Rightful Synonyms for Music Are Emotion and Passion

Peter Jacobi (emeritus), The Media School

Sounds of Ellis Island: An Exploration of Irish and Italian Dialects during the Late 19th and Early 20th Centuries

Nancy Lipschultz, Theatre, Drama, & Contemporary Dance

Iconic Photographs and Vik Muniz's The Best of Life

John Lucaites, The Media School

Theatre in America Today: The State of the Art and the Art of the State

Dale McFadden, Department of Theatre, Drama, & Contemporary Dance

Finding Love and Loss in Shakespeare's Love's Labours Lost: A Performance Study

Jonathan Michaelsen, Department of Theatre, Drama, & Contemporary Dance

Delightful Deceptions: Magic and Puzzle Design

Andrew Rhoda, Lilly Library

The Making of an Opera Season

Gwyn Richards, Jacobs School of Music

Hope and Glory and Beyond: The John Boorman Collection at the Lilly

Craig Simpson, Lilly Library

Business and Technology

Presidential Polling 2016: What Went Wrong?

Frank Acito, Kelley School of Business

Making Better Decisions: Tips That Help and Biases That Hurt

Tim Baldwin, Kelley School of Business

Trust and Risk in Internet Commerce

Jean Camp, School of Informatics and Computing

Simple Ways (or Tips) to Use iPhones

Amy Kinser, Kelley School of Business

Simple Ways (or Tips) to Use Android/Windows Smartphones

Eric Kinser, Kelley School of Business

Craft Beer: From Trends, to Styles, to Taste

Greg Kitzmiller, Kelley School of Business

75 Minutes That Will Change Your Life: Exaggeration as Economic Policy

Morton Marcus (emeritus), Kelley School of Business

The Spread of Misinformation in Social Media

Filippo Menczer, School of Informatics and Computing

Building a Better HAL 9000: Algorithms, the Market, and the Need to Prevent the Further Engraining of Bias

Angie Raymond, Kelley School of Business

Places and Spaces: Mapping with the Atlas of Knowledge

Lisel Record, School of Informatics and Computing

Social Media Simplified

Sarah Smith-Robbins, Kelley School of Business

Betwixt and Between: Regulating the Sharing Economy

Abbey Stemler, Kelley School of Business

The Economic Outlook Under President Trump

Bill Witte (emeritus), Department of Economics

The Evolution of Modern Branding

Robert Zinkan, IU Marketing

Domestic Issues

The Supreme Court in the Trump Years: Expectations and Prognostications

Beth Cate, School of Public and Environmental Affairs

In Praise of a Forgotten Virtue: Moderation in the 21st Century

Aurelian Craiutu, Department of Political Science

The Origins of the CIA

Nick Cullather, Department of History

The Problems of Free Expression: Domestic, Foreign, and Self-imposed

Anthony Fargo, The Media School

Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor, Your Huddled Masses Yearning to Breathe Free: The Economics of Immigration and Refugees

Gerhard Glomm, Department of Economics

Challenges That Confront Our American Representative Democracy

Lee Hamilton, School of Global and International Studies

Agitate! Agitate! Agitate! Why Civic Engagement – and Civic Education—Is so Important Today

Paul Helmke, School of Public and Environmental Affairs

Can American Politics Be Fixed?

Marjorie Hershey, Department of Political Science, College of Arts and Sciences

Creating History for PBS

Steve Krahnke, The Media School

Leaks in the Latino/Latina Educational Pipeline

Sylvia Martinez, School of Education

How to Slay Fake News: Tips, Trends, and Rules

Elaine Monaghan, The Media School

No Longer the Paper Chase: Globalization, Competition, and Changes in Legal Education

Austen Parrish, Maurer School of Law

Freedom of Speech on Campus: Balancing Rights and Respect

Steve Sanders, Maurer School of Law

Climate Change and the Media: Are We Doing Our Job?

James Shanahan, The Media School

U.S. Healthcare Reform: Prognosis for “Obamacare” and Beyond

Kosali Simon, School of Public and Environmental Affairs

Education, Health, and Human Development

The Rebirth of Board Gaming

Marco Arnaudo, Department of French and Italian

Indiana University Bloomington: America's Legacy Campus

Terry Clapacs (emeritus), Office of the Vice President

IU's Newest School: Art + Design

Peg Faimon, School of Art + Design

Ebola and Infectious Diseases of Public Health Significance

Shawn Gibbs and Aurora Le, School of Public Health

Changing Time: Two Deans' Perspectives on Trends in Student Life Over the Last 50 Years

Peter Goldsmith (emeritus) and Dick McKaig (emeritus), Office of the Dean of Students

Evolution in Style: Changes in Architecture on the IUB Campus from 1920 to 2020

Brian Keith (emeritus), Indiana Geological Survey

Making the Invisible Visible: A Journey Through the History of Women's Contributions to Indiana University

Laurie Burns McRobbie, IU Foundation

Falling and Failing: Not an Option! A Look at the Impact of Healthy Aging

Michelle Miller, School of Public Health

African-American Families in Predominantly Caucasian Christian Churches

Maresa Murray, School of Public Health

Seeking and Sharing Health Information in the Digital Era

Jessica Myrick, The Media School

Teaching Language Through Song

Alwiya Omar, African Studies Program

Indiana University and the Great War: Student, Professor, and Alumni Involvement in World War I

Carrie Schwier, University Archives

Sexuality and Aging: Embracing Change

William Yarber, School of Public Health

Accessibility in National Parks: Exploring the Features That Can Maximize Your Visitor Experience

Sherril York, School of Public Health

Striking the Correct Balance Between Academic and Athletic Responsibilities for Student Athletes

Kurt Zorn, Office of the Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education

Humanities

The Rhetorical Presidency: Factors That Shape Presidential Communication

James Andrews, Department of English

The History of the Paperback

Rebecca Baumann, Lilly Library

Acts of Piety: Building Churches in Early Christianity

Deborah Deliyannis, Department of History

Religious Roots of Environmentalism

Constance Furey, Department of Religious Studies

Women, Murder, and Money in 19th Century America

Wendy Gamber, Department of History

Confronting the Dilemmas of Retirement: Can We Shape a Meaningful Story?

Raymond Hedin, Department of English

Natural Disasters: A New Look at the Collections of the Lilly Library

Christoph Irmscher, Department of English

Tree Stumps and Spinning Wheels: Indiana Gravestones and Their Meanings

Jon Kay, Department of Folklore and Ethnomusicology

Remembering Mass Murder in Norway: July 22, 2011, and Its Aftermath

Ed Linenthal, Department of History

Lucretius Explains Absolutely Everything to You

Tim Long (emeritus), Department of Classical Studies

Making History for TV: “Hoosiers: The Story of Indiana”

James Madison (emeritus), Department of History

News Framing and Attribution of Responsibility

Lesa Major, The Media School

A Backward Glance: The Poetry of James Whitcomb Riley

Kim Manlove, State of Indiana

Race, Caste, and Status: Discrimination in the 21st Century in a Global Context

Patrick O'Meara, School of Global and International Studies

Reflections on a Community of the Heart: Ethnographer and the People of Juchitán, Oaxaca, 1967–2016

Anya Royce, Department of Anthropology

Bloomington on Foot: 200 Years of Urban Change

Eric Sandweiss, Department of History

British and American Films in Conversation

John Schilb, Department of English

From Slavery to Mass Incarceration: Tracing the History

Micol Seigel, Department of American Studies

Understanding Global Cultures: The United States of America

Christine Von Der Haar, Department of Sociology

International Affairs

Islam and the West: Friends or Foes?

Asma Afsaruddin, Department of Near Eastern Languages and Cultures

U.S.–Iran Relations in the Trump Era

Hussein Banai, School of Global and International Studies

Cuba after Castro: The Long Endgame

Anke Birkenmaier, Department of Spanish and Portuguese

What Really Happened in Syria and Iraq?

Carol Choksy, School of Informatics and Computing

Why People Spy: American Traitors and Foreign Spies I've Personally Known

Gene Coyle (emeritus), School of Global and International Studies

Islam and Contemporary Africa

John Hanson, Department of History

Right-wing Populism in Europe and the United States

Jeffrey Hart (emeritus), Department of Political Science

The Politics of Brexit in Comparative Perspective

Timothy Hellwig, Department of Political Science

War and Diplomacy in the Middle East

Feisal Istrabadi, School of Global and International Studies

An Update on Asia: What Are the Changes After the Election?

Mark Minton, School of Global and International Studies

U.S.–NATO Intervention in Afghanistan: 16 Years, over a Trillion Dollars, and Five Presidents Later

Nazif Shahrani, Department of Central Eurasian Studies

Making Sense of US–Russia Policy: It’s Not All Bromance, Cyber-Security, and Kompromat

Regina Smyth, Department of Political Science

Elections in the Oldest (U.S.) and Largest (India) Democracies: A Comparative Perspective

Arvind Verma, Department of Criminal Justice

Science

The Dangers of Radiation from Medical Imaging

Mervyn Cohen (emeritus), School of Medicine

Global Climate Change: The Science of It and Our Personal Involvement

David Dilcher (emeritus), Department of Biology

Meet the Manikins: High Fidelity Simulations for Teaching Medical and Nursing Students

Sally Gindling, School of Nursing; Desiree Hensel, School of Nursing; and John Watkins, School of Medicine

Geology, Theology, and Foreign Policy

Michael Hamburger, Department of Geological Sciences

Pollinators Under Threat: Implications for the Food Chain

George Hegeman (emeritus), Department of Biology

The Fall and Rise of the Single Species Hypothesis for Human Evolution

Kevin Hunt, Department of Anthropology

Protect the Player, Protect the Game: A Paradigm Shift in Concussion Management

Keisuke Kawata, School of Public Health

Head in the Clouds: Why Does It Rain?

Cody Kirkpatrick, Department of Earth and Atmospheric Sciences

How Age Stereotypes Affect Your Body and Mind

Anne Krendl, Department of Psychology and Brain Sciences

Frailty Prevention: The Science of Strength in Later Life

Bruce Martin, School of Medicine

Eclipse 2017: How to See It and What to Expect

Caty Pilachowski, Department of Astronomy

Peripheral Neuropathy: A Look at Types, Symptoms, Diagnosis, Treatments and Research

Mark Ronan, School of Medicine

The Past Under Your Feet: Valuing the Archaeological Sites Beneath Historic Buildings

April Sievert, Department of Anthropology

How Toddlers Learn to Stay on Task

Linda Smith, Department of Psychology and Brain Sciences

World Energy Facts and Physics

Rex Tayloe, Department of Physics